

Angela Fontes, Ph.D., PMP

Candidate for Board Member

Current Position

Director, Behavioral and Economic Analysis and Decision-making Practice at NORC at the University of Chicago
Instructor, Northwestern University

Academic Background

Ph.D. in Consumer Behavior and Family Economics from University of Wisconsin-Madison
M.S. and B.S. in Consumer and Community Studies from the University of Utah

ACCI Activities

Member since 2003
Frequent presenter at the annual conference
Reviewer for the annual conference submissions
Discussant for annual conference sessions
Recipient of ACCI Student Travel awards
Participated in the Student Travel Award Committee

Other Professional Activities and Honors

Journal Reviewer:

- Health Affairs
- Journal of Family and Economic Issues
- Public Opinion Quarterly

Reviewer for submissions to the annual conference of the American Association for Public Opinion Research

President/Discussant for sessions at the annual conference of the American Association for Public Opinion Research

Memberships

- Association for Financial Counseling and Planning Education

- American Association for Public Opinion Research
- Economic Science Association
- Society for Experimental Finance

Awards

Outstanding Teaching Award, Graduate programs, Northwestern University, 2016-17

Research Interests

Investor decision-making

Disclosure effectiveness

Retirement preparedness

Race and ethnic identity

Research methods, specifically the collection of household finance data

Teaching Interests

Policy Analysis

Research Methods

Behavioral Economics

Predictive Analytics

Statement of Goals for Office

Thank you for considering me for a position on the ACCI Board of Directors. If elected to serve, my goals include using my unique position and skills to further engage researchers and professionals outside of traditional academic settings. I believe there is considerable opportunity to build ACCI membership among researchers and professionals working in research centers and not-for-profit organizations, and I would look to share the benefits of ACCI membership with these colleagues. Additionally, I would look to further ACCI's efforts to incorporate the unique perspectives, skills and opportunities our colleagues outside of academia bring to the ACCI community in order to further ACCI's mission of enhancing consumer and family economic well-being by promoting excellence in research and educational programs.